

Cloud Adoption Labs

Presented by Insight's technical solution consultant team

Business challenge

Adopting new cloud technology comes with a myriad of complexities and decisions regarding preferred languages, frameworks and infrastructure. Adoption Labs are built to educate clients on cloud nuances and empower them through education to run an optimal cloud environment.

- Do you have constraints that are halting your cloud journey?
- Are you looking for a better technical understanding on a specific cloud product/service?
- Are you new to the cloud and would like help getting started on your cloud journey?

Cloud Adoption Labs are built to address these challenges for clients consuming cloud through Insight today.

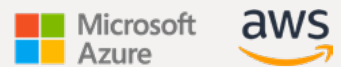

How we help

Adoption Labs are a multicloud, post-sales offering to address intermediate-level obstacles commonly faced with cloud technologies. Adoption Labs provide practical experience to create and customize a specific cloud product's features and capabilities in different scenarios. These are presented by an Insight technical solution consultant in a lab environment and include an interactive question and answer session to assist in the knowledge transfer for each technical lab. These labs are offered at no cost to clients consuming cloud through Insight today.
